

How Medical Funding Can Help a Personal Injury Plaintiff

A delivery truck runs a light and hits Jane's vehicle - She is treated in the ER and needs further care but doesn't have health insurance

Jane hires Frank, a personal injury attorney, who wants her to get the medical care she needs while he fights for the justice she deserves

Frank contacts HMR who has medical providers under contract who may provide care to Jane

Dr. Jones treats Jane so she can get on the road to recovery

HMR promptly pays Dr. Jones to purchase the medical bills and lien associated with Jane's personal injury case

HMR waits months, if not years, for the case to resolve, and takes the risk of the case being lost

Frank introduces the medical bills into evidence to show that Jane's medical care was necessary - her case is either settled or it goes to court

HMR is paid the amount Dr. Jones charged out of the settlement or award
